

POZZ: worthy Good causes and green living

Not the Tango

Get inspired to cha-cha for a cure, and we don't mean dancing. Atlanta-based ChaChaBella Jewelry Designs recently launched a ChaCha for the Cure ring with proceeds benefiting breast cancer research. These sparkling rings feature small beads embedded with a pink ribbon, so you can proudly toss your hand around for all to see. $67, Lisa Brown, Another You and chachabella.com.

Bottling Green

The United States sends approximately 38 billion water bottles to landfills each year—a statistic you can't ignore. To aid in conservation, Brita and Nalgene have teamed up to bring you the FilterForGood pledge campaign. Purchase a green campaign Nalgene bottle ($10) and make your pledge to use it every day and cut down on needless water bottle waste. It's an easy step in the right direction. Log on to filterforgood.com to make your pledge and choose your bottle.

Never Wear

Never say never, because you have the power to change the world. Say it loud and proud with the NVR SAY NVR wearable cause campaign. The Justice Tee was created to benefit the Georgia Innocence Project, which was designed to help those convicted of crimes they did not commit get released and transition back into society. $20, vrsaynvr.com.

My Fair Lady

Chic, sophisticated and beautiful all describe Audrey Hepburn and the latest charitable accessory, the limited edition Audreybag. The handcrafted, 100 percent cotton canvas bag is featured in 12 styles, so you can choose the images that inspire you most. But these are more than just a fashion statement—all of the proceeds from the bags go to the Audrey Hepburn Children's Fund. Prices vary, exclusively at audreybag.com.

Garden Party

Bring the kids out to get some fresh air at the newly renovated Live Garden at the Children's Healthcare of Atlanta Children's Garden at the Atlanta Botanical Garden. This refurbished section of the two-acre garden focuses on learning about plants cleaning the air. Educational and fun, it makes for a great family experience. $12 adults, $9 seniors, $9 children and students, atlantabotanicalgarden.org.
