St Patrick's Day!

Hope everyone is having a great week! Happy almost Friday! It's been a weird week for me. Have just felt kinda down...you ever have those days? Or weeks? Oh well, now that Spring is approaching and the sun is shining...I am sure the days will be happier. Easter is around the corner and it's my favorite time of the year. And I sooo forgot to set my clock ahead for the first time ever...but thankfully still managed to make it on time at Buckhead Church.

Next weekend I get to see my BFF Valerie and I am so looking forward to having a few days off and taking a break. I have known Valerie since I was born and nothing refreshes the soul than catching up with your best girl-friend.

Ate a yummy dinner at Aquaknox in Buckhead last weekend...even tried crab legs for the first time...yum! That place is just cool...oh and did I say yummy! This weekend I have so many fun things going on...Saturday it's hanging out at the Famous Footwear in Snellville at The Avenue at Web Gin, after it's the St.Patrick's Day party going on at E. Andrews and then on Monday morning, something cool for Breast Cancer Research is going on at Global Imports BMW...you can get more details on all of those events by going to www.star94.com and clicking on my personality page.

Remember the cute new ring I told you I got the other day? It's from Cha Cha Bella and they made one for me and one for my little Bug Lily. You can check them out at www.chachabella.com Cha Cha Bella is doing something really cool that I wanted to tell you about, especially because it is near and dear to my heart. ChaChaBella, announced today that it will reveal a new line of its signature Swarovski crystal sparklers called ChaCha for the Cure. The pink collection of handmade rings will be introduced at the Pink Ribbon Runway Gala tomorrow March 14 in Auburn, GA at the Carl House. ChaChaBella will donate fifty percent of the proceeds of this new line to the Georgia Cancer Foundation, as well as fifty percent of every other pink ring - and even their rings named after the people who've been touched by breast cancer. (which would be my ring...the CINDY ring on page 2 at their website. YAY Momma Jane...3 time Cancer Survivor!) The Pink Ribbon Runway Gala is a formal fundraising event to benefit breast cancer research, education, screening, outreach and treatment. Fifty percent of the proceeds from the Gala will be donated to the Georgia Cancer Foundation. Gala details: March 14 from 7:30-11:30pm at the Carl House, 1176 Atlanta Highway, Auburn, GA 30011. Visit www.ChaChaBella.com for more details.
